Lack of letter from Sheriff cancels rock concert plans

by GLORIA DAVIS

Although area rock fans might be disappointed, the news that the rock concert slated to be held August 15, on the William Zeigler property on Rte. 173, near Thelen's Gravel Pit, in Antioch Township, has been cancelled, can only serve to give law enforcement agencies of three counties and two states a sense of relief, noting the unruly activities known to usually surround such concerts.

Zeigler, owner of the property where the rock festival was to be held, said that he was just the landlord but claimed to feel sorry for the promoters, one from McHenry and another from Kansas City, Kan., since they had gone to considerable expense ploughing crops under, etc.

Zeigler said that the reason the concert was called off was that "We couldn't get a simple letter from Sheriff Brown okaying it and now it's already too late for advertising and all the other things involved."

According to James Donaldson, Lake County Sheriff's Dept., the department that has the final say so on the issuance of permits allowing events of this type, the present ordinance that the county has governing outdoor activities does not take into consideration this kind of gathering and the type of crowd it attracts.

Giving an example, Donaldson said, "The security needed at this type of event would be greater than that needed at a county fair."

The chief deputy said that the ordinance is in the process of being revised, but could not be gotten together in time for the concert.

Zeigler claims that he could find no evidence of work being done on any ordinance through the county.

"We had asked the attorney for Zeigler and the promoters, Lou Bridges, Waukegan, to meet with us when they called and cancelled," says Donaldson.

When asked why the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. had okayed the Blue Grass concert scheduled for Sunday, August 2, in the northeastern corner of Lake County, near I-94 in Russell, Donaldson said "We were able to meet with the promoters of the Blue Grass concert and determine the amount of the crowd, if alcoholic beverages were to be sold

Good news in The News

Salad Luncheon

Plans are being made for St. Peter's Woman's Club annual salad bar luncheon to be held on August 15, at noon at St. Peter's Social Center.

The program "Around the World Fashions" will be presented by many of Antioch's lovely models representing many countries fashioned from "Renaissance To Our Modern American Beauty."

Tickets are $3.75 for adults, $2 for children under 12. Prizes are included.

Church School

St. Stephen Lutheran Church will be holding its Vacation Church School, August 10-14, from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

Classes will be available for children ages three through sixth grade. The cost will be $3 per child and $6 per family.

Registration can be made by calling the church office from 9 a.m. to noon, at (312) 395-3359 or on the first day. The theme this year is "All God's People."

Blood Drive

Count Dracula is coming to check out the people of Antioch with an abundant amount of blood. A sure way to keep the count from visiting you is to donate your blood on August 8 at the Evangelical Free Church in memorial of Dr. John Loring, sponsored by the Antioch Jaycees.

For more information call First National Bank of Antioch, (312) 395-3111; Glenn Learmont, (312) 395-1978; or Richard Klean, (312) 395-2387.

Lions Bar-B-Que set for Sunday, August 3

It's time for the annual Farmer's Picnic-Chicken Bar-B-Que and Auction, slated this year for Sunday, August 2, at its usual lovely location, under the trees at Williams Park.

This has traditionally been not only one of the local events that draws terrific participation, but it is probably the best attended function of the year.

The auction, sponsored by the Antioch Rescue Squad, will be directed by Auctioneer Herman Behm and will feature a wide variety of donated items, ranging from valuable antiques to brand new merchandise.

All proceeds from the auction will go to the rescue squad.

There will be games, races and prizes for the kids including: egg catching, a sack race, a wheelbarrow relay, leap frog races, pie eating and balloon throwing contests.

The invitation swim meet will be held at the pool at 9 a.m.

The auction will start at 1 p.m. as will the kids' games and races.

Of course all the members of the Lions Club will be busy preparing and serving the famed charcoal broiled and butter basted chicken dinner which includes sweet corn roasted on the grill.

ACHS Board's petitions must be filed soon

Under the consolidated election law, the election of school board members now takes place in the November election of odd years.

The terms on the Antioch Community High School Board of Education of Glen Moore and Tony Starvevic expire at this time.

Both men have taken out petitions. On Tuesday, November 3, two members will be elected to the Board of Education for four year terms.

Candidacy petitions are available in the general office of Antioch Community High School, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Petitions must be filed at the same office. The first day for filing is Monday, August 17. The last date for filing is Monday, August 24.

Petitions may be filed between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., except on the last day, (August 24) when the time is extended to 5 p.m.

The last date to withdraw petitions is Wednesday, September 9. Petitions do not have to be picked up or returned to Antioch Community High School by the candidate.

Ballot positions for all candidates who present their petitions for filing at 8 a.m. on the first day for filing shall be determined by lot at a public drawing and ballot positions for all other candidates shall be in the order in which their petitions are filed.

Each candidate must provide, with the petition, evidence of having filed a statement of economic interest as required by the Illinois Governmental Ethics Act in relation to the school district within the period for filing of nomination papers under this section or within a year preceding the date on which nomination papers were filed.

Mayoral committee set to report to board August 3

After four months of investigation, the committee assigned to find out whether Antioch is in need of a full-time mayor or a business administrator, or a part-time mayor along with a business administrator, will report their findings to the village board at the August 3 meeting.

When the committee was appointed, in March, Michael Haley, who was mayor at the time, was in favor of the village's head having a full-time job.

The present mayor, Ray Toft, thinks he and the present board of trustees are capable of running the village without an administrator's help.

Toft is returning $7,000 of the $11,000 part-time mayor's salary, so in effect Antioch presently is termed a part-time mayor, working for part of the part-time salary and spending "all the time it takes to do the job."

Any recommendations from the committee to the village board are purely advisory and whether the present board, peopled with two new trustees and headed by a new mayor, who thinks the present village government structure is sufficient, will heed their recommendations, will be seen after the August 3 meeting.

LONGER TERMS

The Antioch Community High School Board has approved a referendum, to be placed on the November ballot, lengthening the terms of board members from four to six years.

Maxwell St. Days coming this weekend

The theme of this year's Maxwell St. Days, chosen by the Chamber of Commerce's retail committee, is "Our Kind of Town."

Chamber member merchants will be putting "Our Kind of Town" labels on their merchandise.

As usual the Antioch's stores will be featuring outlandishly slashed prices on summer merchandise and even some pre-fall merchandise will be featured on the sale racks.

Most of the merchants will have their sale goods displayed outside their stores, some underneath colorful canopies, just in case of rain.

It's a good time to get that outfit that you just couldn't afford at the regular price, because there are lots of warm days left to wear it.

Many smart mothers will outfit their kids for the first days of school while really clever shoppers will bring along their Christmas lists and do some smart inexpensive early Christmas shopping.

Besides the commercial sales, many community groups will get in to the act like St. Ignatius Episcopal Church who will again feature a sale on roast corn, bratwurst, hot dogs and lemonade in the Antioch Plaza to help feed the shoppers between buys.

Maxwell St. Days will run from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Thursday, July 30 and Saturday, August 1 and from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday, July 31.

MAXWELL ST. MARK DOWNS — Don Marski, manager of Ben Franklin, shown busy marking stock down 50 to 60 percent in preparation for this year's Maxwell St. Days, slated to run Thursday, July 30, Friday, July 31 and Saturday, August 1. — Photo by Gloria Davis

'Bunko Boys' join Maxwell St. fun

As part of their Maxwell St. Days promotion, the State Bank of Antioch will be showing a full-color, 16 minute film illustrating the most common con games.

The films will be shown in the main lobby of the bank from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., on Friday, July 31 and from 9 a.m. to noon, on Saturday, August 1.

The film is entitled "The Bunko Boys and How to Beat Them." It dramatizes several situations in which an individual is being set up for a con.

As noted in the film, a con may start out with a telephone caller claiming to be a bank examiner and asking for assistance in helping to prove the dishonesty of a particular bank employee.

TIME TO REACH FOR ALL THE BARGAINS...

Tell The Antioch News why you like to "Shop At Home." The Antioch News will award $10 to writers of selected letters. Entrants must be age 18 or older. Letters should be 150 words or less and will be considered on weekly basis.

50 YEARS AGO: JULY 30, 1931

Lake County deputy sheriffs are searching for Thomas G. Rhodes Jr., who is charged with bigamy in a warrant issued Monday. Rhodes, well known Antioch man, and erstwhile manager of his father's local store disappeared simultaneously with the issuing of the warrant. Numerous absences from his home, unreasonable demands for money from his father, and mysterious phone calls from Chicago aroused the suspicions of Mrs. Rhodes No. 1, which were confirmed when the second wife came to Antioch.

With Clarence Spiering and his family definitely removed from the Hickory Corners Church, members of the parish are planning to hold a chicken dinner as an introduction to a religious revival as soon as the parish is reorganized. After "squatting" in the church for about five months, Spiering was forced to vacate Tuesday.

Automobile pickpockets boldly made a theft of $163, a gold watch and chain and a railroad pass from the car of J.J. Murphy while he was swimming in Cedar Lake.

Religious services for any who care to attend are held on the bank corner at the intersection of Main and Lake Streets every Saturday evening.

A determined effort on the part of State's Attorney A.V. Smith to rid the county of the influx of slot machines resulted in the confiscation of 18 of these gambling devices before the weekend. Resort owners had taken full advantage of Col. Smith's illness by stalling these machines. They were expecting to be unmolested while Smith was in the hospital, but Smith delivered orders from his sickbed to raid the resorts.

30 YEARS AGO: AUGUST 2, 1951

Arthur H. Lippert, committed to the Illinois State Security hospital after he had killed his wife at their Venetian Village home last summer, had filed a petition asking his release from the institution on the grounds that he is cured of the mental illness responsible for the act. Residents will recall that he was on a three day pass from Elgin hospital for the insane at the time of the slaying.

Gus Grundstrom, Grass Lake summer resident, well-known here, realized a long time ambition several weeks ago, when his racing boat, "Viking", set a new world's record at a race meet in Florida.

Cpl. Richard A. Kelly is on his way home from the Korean War front.

George Dusette has been signed by Promoter Fred Kohler to wrestle Leon Kirilenko, the Mad Russian, next Friday night in the Lake County Stadium, in Round Lake Park.

10 YEARS AGO: JULY 28, 1971

Dr. W.C. Petty, County Superintendent of Schools spent his last Monday on the job after 40 years of outstanding service. It's been a long road from September, 1919, when he accepted a teaching job at $70 a month for seven months. He came into teaching straight out of high school and earned his Bachelor's degree and Master's degree through summer school, night classes and correspondence courses. His honorary doctorate was awarded by Lake Forest College. Regarding the latter degree, Dr. Petty says, "I suppose I could have gone out and earned the doctorate degree by taking the courses — but it seems nicer that someone thought enough of my work to want to award me the degree. I appreciate it very much.

Jacky Hinz's pen pal, Nicole Loulergue, a 19 year old French Gamine from Thiais, France, has crossed an ocean and half a continent to visit her. They have been corresponding for about about a year and a half.

News/OPINION

The Antioch News welcomes letters to the editor. Letters should be on topics of general interest, approximately 150 words or less and be signed with home address and telephone number. Guest editorials are also invited. They should be a minimum of 250 words and signed. The editor reserves the right to condense all material addressed to this page.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

A gal who was a reporter on the Antioch News 50 years ago, Dorothy Hughes Kalvelage, now living in Dubuque Iowa, dropped me a line telling me that her mother, Maude (Mrs. Carl) Hughes, now living near Millburn, celebrated her 90th birthday at the Brae Loch Country Club, on Sunday, July 19.

All her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren were present. Some were from Iowa, others from Wisconsin, Minnesota, Colorado and Normal, Ill.

Many friends and relatives visited her at her home during the afternoon.

She and her late husband Carl operated a dairy and in later years were widely known for their tulips and chrysanthemum gardens.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week will find one of my favorite Antioch events taking place, it's Maxwell St. Days time again.

Maybe this year I can find something on sale that I can wear with those purple capri pants that were such a steal last year.

Is Mayor Ray Toft planning on giving his "su-ee" at the Mayor's hog calling contest on that Friday at the Lake County Fair?

Memory Lane

Did you know that we have a grade school student who attended college last week.

Eric Anderson was one of the "gifted and talented" area grade school students that attended special college classes last week at the University of Wisconsin's Parkside Campus.

Our locally famous Mark Sylvestro, who beat the yachts racing to Mackinac Island last weekend by pedalling a mean bicycle, not only got his name on the United Press International News Wire and was mentioned in the "big city press" but also was seen on television.

Looks like one of Antioch's men-in-the-military is headed down south. Airman Richard J. Pahlke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Pahlke, has been assigned to Kessler Air Force Base in Mississippi after completing his Air Force basic training.

Your Guide to Fine Dining and Excellent Entertainment

THE Entertainer

PM&L's 'Night's Dream' family entertainment

by GREG SMITH

PM&L Theatre, Antioch, has tackled the production of an old theatre favorite, A Midsummer Night's Dream by William Shakespeare, and has put together a show for the whole family.

Using a large cast of people from all over Lake County, PM&L has provided an opportunity for parents to take their children to a classic English play in their own neighborhood. And for the grown-up who has not seen a Shakespeare play since high school or longer ago, the PM&L production will refresh memories.

People who plan to attend the play during its showings July 31, August 1 and 2, August 7 and 8 should come prepared to listen attentively. The Old English dialog is at times difficult to understand and some of the actors and the actresses have problems being understood. But the work put into the play between opening night July 25 and the show's next performance should straighten out many problems some of the performers are having.

The script itself is a comic fantasy about love, magic, Kings and Queens, mischievous fairies and clod actors. The combination of the different parts of the play blend together to create a story that will amuse people of all ages. But Shakespeare's Night's Dream has been reviewed favorably before.

What PM&L has done is attempt to produce an old classic. Which is very hard to do without repeating what has been done in the past or has been seen before.

However, as more than one person said during the intermission, "It has been a long time since I have seen a Shakespeare play." Which makes Night's Dream a good choice, if not a brave one.

Again the PM&L production staff has come through for the audience in Night's Dream. The costumes and the stage settings are very well done and provide the performers the atmosphere needed for the production. The colorful costumes and make-up will delight children just as the script will amuse adults.

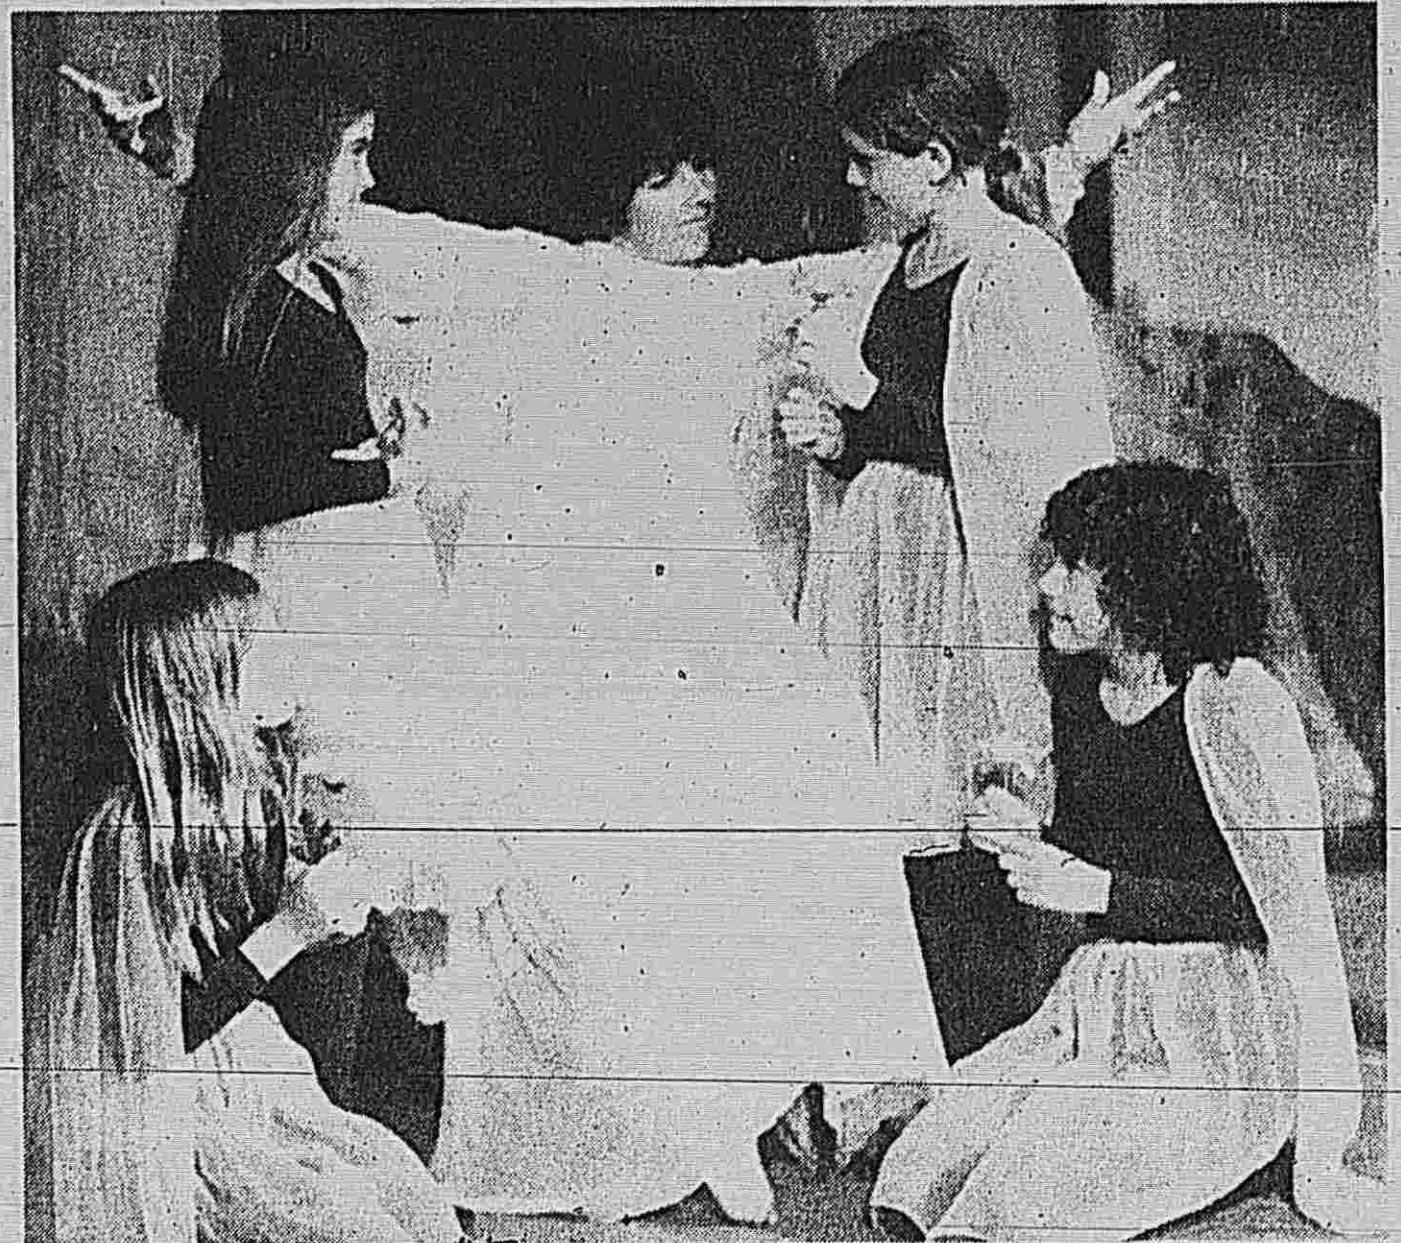

The largest attraction in PM&L's Night's Dream may be the large number of people who are involved either on stage or backstage. There are 23 performers who appear on stage, many whom have not been regulars on the PM&L stage this year. And thanks to the Shakespeare's well written script, all the performers play an important role.

The bottom line, if there is one, is PM&L's Night's Dream should be seen by those who are not familiar with Shakespeare and those who are, but haven't seen a Shakespeare play in a long time.

Night's Dream is directed by Don Beveroth, Paddock Lake. The play will be shown Friday and Saturday nights July 31, August 1, 7 and 8. The Friday and Saturday night curtain times are 8:30 p.m. There will also be a 2:30 p.m. Sunday matinee August 2.

Reservations are encouraged. To make reservations call (312) 395-3055 and it is asked that ticket buyers arrive no later than 15 minutes before curtain time.

PM&L Theater is located at 877 Main St., Antioch.

Loon Lakers nix business' proposed zoning change

In order to build an A Z Rental Store, on ten residentially zoned lots, two miles south of Antioch on the west side of Rte. 83, one block south of Beach Grove Rd., Richard Curtiss, and the First National Bank of Waukegan, have petitioned the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals for rezoning of that land from residential to commercial.

The rental store will be built on three of the lots and the bank is expected to either develop or sell the other seven lots.

Loon Lake residents, many who have lived in that area for 40 years, are worried not only that such a rezoning might hurt their property values, but concern over increased lake drainage and traffic has arisen.

Letters of objection have been sent to the rezoning board along with the suggestions that more suitable sites for the building projects are available.

The next hearing on the rezoning will be held at 1:30 p.m., Wednesday, August 12, at the Antioch Township Hall.

Three Lake County golfers have entered in the Illinois portion of the 13th Annual Insurance Youth Golf Classic to be held July 28-29 at Rend Lake Golf Club in Sesser.

Dave Gall and Bill Witek of Antioch, along with Phil Ross of Waukegan, earned the right to advance to the state tournament after preliminary competition at Bonnie Brook Country Club in Waukegan.

The Classic is considered the largest youth tournament in the nation, with 40,000 entered throughout the United States.

The tournament is sponsored by the Independent Insurance Agencies of Illinois.

Stage review Vanities is unique drama

by GLORIA DAVIS

The latest offering of Antioch's Fools Players, "Vanities," is a most unusual show. There are only three people in the cast, the set for the three scenes is created by the varied placement of risers and a few props.

The dressing rooms of the three players are open to the audience at all times, against the black curtained backdrop of the stage.

The audience sees these leveled dressing rooms used during the intermissions when our three actresses create the passage of time in front of their theatrically lit vanities, ergo the play's title.

Mary Faulkner-Jones, Christina Lindberg and Kris Ann Miller bring to life the trials and tribulations of three young ladies, starting with their high school cheerleading days, passing on to their college sorority years and culminating by letting us peek into their lives ten years afterwards.

All three girls are graduates of Antioch High School's drama classes and all three have studied theater at the college level.

The audience sees the focal point of their lives change from football games, to men, to doing what they really want to do in life.

Two of them end up being "free" and the other achieves the American dream of the rose covered cottage surrounded by a husband and children.

You leave the theater wondering which, if any of them, has found happiness and on the way home you might decide that all three have, in their own way.

Jones does an outstanding job as the naive, bubble-headed homebody.

Miller's sex-minded woman of the world is completely convincing and Lindberg's low-keyed portrayal of the gal who couldn't find happiness until she stopped planning how to get it, is a fine balance between the other two.

This is an adult drama that shows life the way it really is.

The opening night's performance was a good one, mired only by a few dialogue lapses, which the girls failed to cover well.

If you are a lover of live theater, "Vanities" will serve as a unique experience in your attendance log.

MORE FIELDS

To alleviate overuse of the four athletic playing fields at Antioch Community High School, the school board is investigating the possibility of developing 30 acres of their property for four more all-around playing fields.

STATE FAIR

The Illinois Ethnic Heritage Festival, grandstand entertainment, livestock and horse competition, a parade and carnival, and farm expo will be just a few of the many featured attractions at the 1981 Illinois State Fair, August 6-16.

Players not competing but expanding audience

by GLORIA DAVIS

For the first time Antioch is blessed with two "live" theaters and lovers of the live performance not only can enjoy attending more dramas and musicals than usually are available locally, but they also have the choice of attending either or both of the shows being put on by the PM&L Theater or those produced by the Fools Players at the Antioch High School.

Since both groups were founded by ACHS's drama teacher Ken Smouse, and many of us were used to seeing his musical productions play at the PM&L Theater during the summer, I wondered if we were witnessing a scission here, with Smouse's production of "Vanities" running at the same time, down the street from PM&L's "Midsummer's Night Dream."

No such thing says Smouse who believes that this is not competition for PM&L, but added theater for Antioch.

"More live theater does not compete for the audience, it enhances," says Smouse.

Smouse, who still intends to direct for PM&L this year, says that the Fools Players are not new to Antioch since they have done productions of "Amahl and the Night Visitors", Handel's "Messiah," "Jesus Christ Superstar," and "Godspell," in accordance with the First Methodist Church of Antioch, in previous years.

This is the first time that they have done a summer season though.

Smouse has taken on an ambitious project with this summer theater festival, virtually being involved in three productions at the same time, since his shows are slated to run back to back.

He chose to do this for several reasons: first, so he could do some of the things he has long wanted to do; secondly, to give some of his former students, who have gone on in the study of music and drama, a chance to work with intensive theater, under different directors.

Smouse did direct the Fools' first production of "Pirates of Penzance," and also "Vanities" although another director was supposed to take over, but the next two productions will be under the guidance of other directors.

Most of those participating in the summer festival come from areas outside of Antioch although the faces of many unsolicited PM&Lers will be seen commuting between both theaters.

Smouse, who footed the bill for the Fools' endeavor himself, says that he has been talking to some backers and envisions that maybe someday, Antioch might have what may amount to a performing arts center along with its well known community theater.

Antiochans on ill-fated train

At least two Antiochans were aboard the Milwaukee Rd. train that struck an oil disposal truck at 8:30 a.m., on Wednesday, July 22, at the railroad crossing at Rte. 120 in Hainsville.

The truck's driver, Robert Schroeder, 23, Ingelside, was killed and the train's engineer and two passengers were taken to Condell Hospital, treated and released.

Lorrie Ferguson and Joel Tershune, both from Antioch, were in the second car of the train.

Ferguson, who was headed for the Union Station to keep a work appointment, when interviewed at the scene of the accident said,

"I saw a flash, then smoke and I felt the train rocking. All that I could think of was the 20-20 documentary on trains derailling."

She added, "The conductor was apparently well trained because he was in the car in a few seconds telling people to be calm."

Tershune was also headed for Chicago on business. He was riding in the balcony seats and was taking a nap and awoke when he was slammed forward in his seat.

"I saw fire and thought I was burning up in the train," he said.

Even though he heard the conductor urging calmness he said that he still wanted to know if he was going to burn.

Tigers win World Series

The Tigers, sponsored by the State Bank of Antioch, defeated the Galdine Electronic Cardinals in a Best of Three series, to win the Antioch Little League Championship.

In game one, the Cardinals routed the Tigers 15-5. Mike Kneip and Gary Hammond pitched the game for the Cardinals, Hammond getting the win.

Dan Adams took the loss for the Tigers.

In game two, the Cardinals jumped on the Tigers for a 5-1 lead after three innings. Kneip lead the Cardinal attack with a home run.

In the bottom of the fourth, the Tigers scored five runs, Jeff Wolf drove in three with a double and Joel Bachochin and Adams also contributed hits.

The Cards scored five runs in the next two innings to lead 10-7 in the bottom of the sixth. Wade Kliman of the Tigers singled in the tying run, stole third base, and scored on Mike DeBosh's single.

Mike Babb was the winning pitcher and Tom Kane the loser.

The incredible thing about this game was that the Tigers pitched 10 year-olds against the league's top pitcher and won 11-10.

In the deciding game, the Tigers' Jamie Stancil's two hits put them in the lead by 3-1 after two innings. However, the Cards controlled the next three innings and led 6-3 going into the sixth with one out.

Bachochin singled one run in and took second on a throw home. A wild pitch scored the runner on third, the throw home got away and Bachochin scored from second to tie the score.

The Tigers continued to score five more runs in that inning and Kilman once again had a key hit, driving in the insurance runs in the sixth for the Tigers.

In the bottom of the sixth Kane singled and Kneip circled the bases on a hit and some errors but then Adams shut the door.

The final score was 11-8 in favor of the Tigers.

Adams got the win and Hammond took the loss.

The Tigers' coaches credit Bob Ricken and Jeff Wolf with a fine defensive game and Stancil, Kilman and Rickie Palmer for clutch hitting.

Skidmore is named a 'Fellow'

The Institute for Development of Educational Activities (IDEA), a division of the Charles F. Kettering Foundation, announced today that Dr. Donald E. Skidmore, Superintendent, Antioch Community Consolidated Grade School Dist. 34, was recently selected as a member of the prestigious IDEA Academy of Fellows.

Dr. Skidmore was chosen as one of 750 outstanding American educators to receive this honor and has just participated in a week-long seminar held at Stephens College, Columbia, MO.

During the week, a faculty of nationally prominent educational leaders addressed the Fellows and met with them in small groups for the purpose of exploring new research and ideas about teaching and learning which, when implemented, may vastly improve quality education at all levels.

The Academy of Fellows is the oldest, continuing in-service program for school administrators in the nation.

etc., so we know how many men are needed."

He added that the promoters of the rock concert cancelled before such a meeting could take place.

First reports had 80,000 fans expected at the concert on Zeigler's property, but permit requests stated 15,000 expected.

Zeigler said that though the idea is dead for this summer, similar plans may develop in the future.

ACHS seek awards for pompon competition

The Antioch Community High School (ACHS) Pom Pon Squad will be competing in the Allstate Open Pom Pon Competition on Sunday, August 9, at the Wisconsin State Fair Park in Milwaukee. The event begins at 10 a.m. and continues throughout the day, with the awards ceremony starting at approximately 4:30 p.m.

The ACHS Pom Pon Squad will be one of 50 squads competing from high schools throughout the midwest. Each squad, consisting of 12 to 24 girls, will perform a three-minute routine to music in the State Fair Coliseum.

Four judges will score the squads on their area of expertise. The girls will be judged on appearance, routine execution, uniformity and similarity, showmanship, variety, rhythm and timing, overall choreography, and use of pom pons.

Each girl entered will receive a patch signifying participation in the Allstate Open Pom Pon Competition.

Squads are placed in classes according to school enrollment. The top five schools in Class A, schools with more than 1,100 students, and the top three squads in Class B will win prize money ranging from $50 to $200 and trophies. In addition, Allstate will award gold charms to each girl in the two first-place squads.

This special event is held annually during the Wisconsin State Fair, and draws capacity crowds to watch talented and enthusiastic girls perform. Allstate is sponsoring it for the first time in order to give these girls the backing they need and to show appreciation for the spirit and color they add to sporting events and activities.

All too often school budgets don't include pom pon squads, so they must raise their own money to buy uniforms, which can run over $100 each, record music, cover travel expenses, and attend camps to learn new routines.

Constant bake sales, car washes, and other fund raisers defray costs.

According to the Kenosha County Sheriff's Dept., Becker was walking down the center of Rte. 83, near Hwy. C, heading towards the center of the southbound lane when the car driven by Abear, southbound, swerved to miss him, but struck Becker because of oncoming traffic in other lane.

The incident is still under investigation.

RE-ELECTED

Theodore Costoff, Antioch, was re-elected to the board of Ace Hardware at the annual dealer-stockholders meeting held in Oakbrook.
